Have you signed up to buy your Robin Hood Lottery tickets yet

30 local good causes, including Mansfield CVS, Home Start and Millside Radio, have signed up to benefit from the new local lottery which will be drawn for the first time next month. More organisations are welcome to register their interest at www.robinhoodlottery.co.uk. Causes need to be local to Mansfield and directly benefiting the residents of the district.

The Robin Hood Lottery website, where residents can buy tickets, will be available from 27 March 2018 in time for the debut draw on 27 April 2018.

Players have a 50-to-one chance of winning one of the prizes, which include the £25,000 jackpot, other cash prizes and three extra tickets.

The weekly draws will see 60p from every £1 ticket going to charities, voluntary organisations and other good causes that work in the area. With the National Lottery, only 28p from every £1 spent on a National Lottery ticket goes to good causes.

Among the causes which have signed up are the anti-drug education programme DARE which was inspired by a similar scheme in Mansfield's sister city Mansfield, Ohio, in the USA.

Meanwhile ticket buyers can register online and set up regular payments to buy tickets and choose which good causes they would like to support. Those who do not select specific causes to support will see their ticket share go into a general pot which will be shared out among all the causes registered. Good causes can receive thousands of pounds per year from the lottery fund.

Executive Mayor Kate Allsop encouraged local people to get involved and support local causes by buying a ticket:

"This is an excellent opportunity to give local good causes an rise in the Robin Hood Lottery, too. We've been overwhelmed by the number of causes registering and we encourage more to sign up online."

From each £1 ticket, 60p goes to local good causes.

another 20p goes to the prize fund, and 20p is for running costs and VAT. Gatherwell, a lottery management company, is running scheme, on the council's behalf.

WESTMINSTER Comes to Warsop

The Palace of Westminster will be closing to allow a restoration and renewal programme to tackle the significant work that needs to be done to protect and preserve the heritage of the Palace of Westminster and ensure it can continue to serve as home to the UK Parliament in the 21st century.

The 1,100-room Palace dates from the mid-1800s and is now one of the most iconic and significant buildings in the world. The previous building was devastated by fire in 1834 but the oldest part of the Parliamentary Estate, Westminster Hall, built in 1099, survived and is still in use today. The Palace is now a Grade I listed building and, with Westminster Abbey and St Margaret's Church, forms part of the UNESCO Westminster World Heritage Site.

As a result of the pending restoration project, the Government have been looking at alternative locations to carry out its day-to-day business. A number of sites were investigated during the process of selection. However, The thoughts of many MPs was that the new location should reflect historical events and a decision was eventually made to reuse a former parliament site.

We can now reveal that the site chosen is close to the site of the Parliament Oak, on the Warsop Parish boundary.

The Parliament Oak is situated on the A6075, Peafield Lane at the corner of the crossroads of Coach Road and New Building Drive. It is thought to be c.1200 years old and hence probably the oldest tree in Sherwood Forest.

In its heyday, it marked the Hell Dale Gate entrance to the deer park of Clipstone, a much favoured hunting place for Royals from 1180 - 1830. Many large oaks defined the parameters of the park, with a fence running from tree to tree. This park was the sole reserve of Kings, who would stay at nearby King John's Palace and woe betide anyone caught trespassing or poaching therein!

The tree acquired its name from the Parliaments which are said to have been held here. The most famous of these is King John who, while hunting in the forest, was informed by a messenger of a revolt and an insurrection in the north of England. He then hastily summoned a parliament to meet under this tree which subsequently gave it its name.

The Parliament was a massive undertaking and with accommodation at King John's palace being stretched beyond capacity- the Chancery and its Clerks had to stay at the nearby village of Warsop.

The Parliament Oak may well have been named after this event- perhaps it was named so because the Clerks and Chancery had to pass under its mighty boughs on the way to attend the Parliament from their quarters at Warsop.

There is also a report in the "Manor of Warsop Perambulation Document of 1816", that the Ancient Barons met King John here in order to present him with the details of the Magna Carter, later signed at Runnymede.

One further royal story links this oak with Edward I. It tells of the King calling Parliament to meet here when on his way to Scotland in 1290.

MPs will be moving into their temporary accommodation which will be erected on farm land near to the site of the Parliament Oak.

A spokesperson from The Parish Council of Warsop commented:

"This is fantastic news for our district as Warsop will be firmly put on the map as a prime location for the entire nation. Being the central hub for Government business will mean that Warsop will be at the forefront of national developments and this will secure its place in the history of Britain".

A high ranking official who must remain unnamed due to the official secrets act stated:

"We are delighted that after months of research we have been able to select a fitting temporary location for parliament to meet during the restoration. We chose this location because it has a long tradition of parliaments and with it's close proximity to the A1 and M1 means it is perfect for transportation links."

"We are waiting news as to whether a helipad can be installed on the Carrs for the Prime Minister and other VIPs. However, we do not envisage this to be a problem as we are aware that helicopter landings have been a feature in previous Warsop Carnivals."

Editor's Letter

Interesting (and exciting?) news featured on our front page.

Does this mean we'll regularly be seeing the likes of Boris Johnson and Theresa May in the vicinity of Warsop?

Maybe we'll also catch a glimpse of President Donald Trump when he undertakes an official visit to the UK.

One thing that always strikes me about Donald Trump is his constant tweets about #fakenews - which of course is entirely true about our front page article - it is April after all - APRIL FOOL'S!

Joking aside, we hope you found the content interesting - Westminster is not coming to Warsop but the Parliament Oak is real and is available to visit - there's even a couple of parking spaces should you wish to drive up. April Fool's day falls on Easter Sunday this year, so from all of us here, we hope you have an enjoyable Easter holiday.

GARDENING MONTHLY...

General Tasks and Garden Maintenance

Now the soil is warming up and things are starting to grow, add general purpose fertiliser before covering with mulch especially in borders, the fruit and vegetable patch and containers. If you have already mulched, draw it back (if possible), tease the soil a little, add fertiliser and replace the mulch.

Carry on removing moss and weeds from paths, terraces and drives.

Make new beds and borders - mark the shape with sand trickled from a bottle, remove the top layer of growing vegetation and dig the ground over, incorporating as much organic matter as possible. If you are making a bed in the lawn, remove the turf - if you dig it in the buried grass will regrow.

Clean and repair your garden tools, book the lawn mower in for a service and check garden furniture for any rot. When it is warm enough, treat sheds, fences and trellis with wood preservative; brushes and rollers are fine for most things, however a sprayer is well worth buying for tricky projects such as woven panels!

Now is the time to wage war on slugs and snails. They love tulips and delicacies such as the delicious young shoots of delphiniums and the like, so use pet-friendly slug pellets, and drench the ground around hostas with liquid slug killer to exterminate slugs below the surface. Keep an eye out for snails and pick them off - what you do with them is up to you. Birds are your friends here - flat stones artfully located are useful accessories for birds to practise their snail catching techniques.

Birds

Birds will be building their nests now in preparation for laying their eggs. Do keep putting out bird food - they quickly become accustomed to regular food supplies and it's a real treat to see wild birds in the garden.

Lawns

Most lawns are looking a far cry from the emerald swards of last year. Unless the weather stays filthy and cold in which case it is better to wait for balmy days, feed with a spring lawn feed to encourage new growth (these have a high nitrogen content to encourage leaf growth), mow regularly (start with the blades high for the first couple of cuts), overseed bare patches and apply weed and moss killer. Rake out or scarify after applying moss killer or you will merely be spreading moss to the rest of your lawn!

Now is the ideal time to sow new lawns on well prepared ground - if you are unsure, please ask for help and advice in the garden centre.

The Fight for a Frack Free Warsop

Most of us take for granted that when we turn on the tap, clean, fresh water will come out to fill up the kettle for our next cuppa! Are you aware that, if fracking is allowed to go ahead in our area, the quality of that life-sustaining fluid could be under more threat?

According to a recent report by the Environment Agency (EA), "The State of the Environment: Water Quality", we are facing a number of risks to our freshwater system, one of which is fracking. The report states:

"Fracking for shale gas could bring risks to the quality of both surface and ground waters as well as placing a new demand on water resources in some areas. The main concerns involve accidental spills or leaks, particularly if these should occur in the subsurface."

"The onshore oil and gas industry has a long history in England but strong regulation around techniques such as fracking will need to continue in order to minimise such risks."

There are several issues worthy of note in the above statement: Firstly, the gas industry may have a long history in England but High Volume Hydraulic Fracking is a new technique to the UK. The existence of "strong regulation" which will adequately protect the people and the environment has been shown by several studies to be highly debatable! Indeed, why "minimise such risks" when we can get rid of them completely if we DO NOT FRACK!

Secondly, there is much evidence available online which shows just how prone to flaunting current regulations the oil and gas industry can be: permit breaches; frequent applications to vary planning conditions rather than comply with them and infringements of safety and health regulations abound. Indeed, the one and only frack to have taken place in England, at Preese Hall, Lancashire in 2011 which caused earth tremors leading to well casing damage, highlighted how poorly the regulations were adhered to when it took 12 months after the event for required notifications to take place.

Lastly, to expand on the risks referred to, both water quality and supply could be impacted from processes carried out by the shale gas industry. Each time a well is fracked, millions of gallons of fresh water is used. The chemicals added to the water and the toxic, radioactive flow back waste subsequently released from the shale, greatly increase risks of water and environmental contamination both on the surface and subsurface. With no proven process of cleaning the flow back waste to a good enough standard to release back into the hydrologic cycle, huge quantities of water could be permanently spoiled, putting further demand on our water supplies which are already under pressure from current levels of demand and pollution.

The EA is telling us that our water is at risk: we should be taking note. So should the government!

Threats to Water Quality

The EA report highlights several problems facing our water quality and supply in addition to the risks from fracking, namely: chemicals; plastic and other pollution; demand from a growing population; climate change and emerging chemicals being found in surface water (antibiotics, anti-inflammatories, oestrogens and other pharmaceuticals and insecticides).

It states:

"Nearly half of groundwater bodies will not reach good chemical status by 2021. For groundwaters protected for drinking water, nitrate levels were responsible for 65% of failures to achieve good chemical status."

This is the water quality situation now, before any pollution or demand from the shale gas industry is added to the mix! Our area is already classed as a "Nitrate Vulnerable Zone".

The report suggests several courses of action that can be taken in trying to reduce the impacts of pollution including:

- Farmers being more careful in the use of pesticides and fertilizers.
- The public reducing the amounts of household chemicals and pesticides used and not putting these or fats, oils and greases down the drains.
- Minimizing the use of single use plastics.

Plastic Pollution

Our waterways are being harmed through the accumulation of plastics – drinking bottles, plastic packaging and micro plastics are harming the animals that live in water environments through entanglement or ingestion. The plastics break down to form tiny particles and can release toxins into the water, both of which can then enter the food chain – this is widespread in freshwaters as well as the marine impacts that we have seen so much of on the TV. Micro plastics have been found even in areas where little pollution would be expected. In a 2017 study, 72% of European drinking waters sampled were found to contain micro plastics.

INEOS – Plastics and Chemicals Manufacturer

As most folk who have looked into the threat of fracking will know, the company wanting to establish a gas field across our area with prospective drill pads every mile or so in every direction, wants the gas mainly as feedstock for its petrochemical plant in Grangemouth. What do they make? Plastics and chemicals!

Ineos is Europe's number one producer of ethylene, a plastics raw material and chemicals, notably chlorine. Their Grangemouth plant was the top industrial polluter in Scotland from carbon emissions in 2016 according to the Scottish Environmental Protection Agency. Scottish Green Party called them a "dinosaur firmly stuck in the fossil age".

"Beaches around Scotland have been polluted by hundreds of thousands of tiny plastic 'nurdles'. As small as lentils, these multi-coloured balls are the building blocks of plastic products – and they are made by the petrochemical giant, Ineos, at its Grangemouth complex." HeraldScotland.com, December 2017.

Ineos now want to industrialize huge swathes of our rural areas, bringing increased HGV activity, air pollution and the risk of water contamination in an attempt to secure gas supplies to make more plastic and chemicals. If they have any gas left over, it will be sold at market rates. It will not give us the cheaper prices seen in the US because our gas supply market is completely different. At the moment, Ineos import shale gas from the US. They have obtained PEDL licences in England, and plan to drill for their own gas supply to reduce their costs and increase their profits. Find out more about Ineos and their involvement in fracking in the YouTube video "Ineos, Fracking and You" by Frack Free TV.

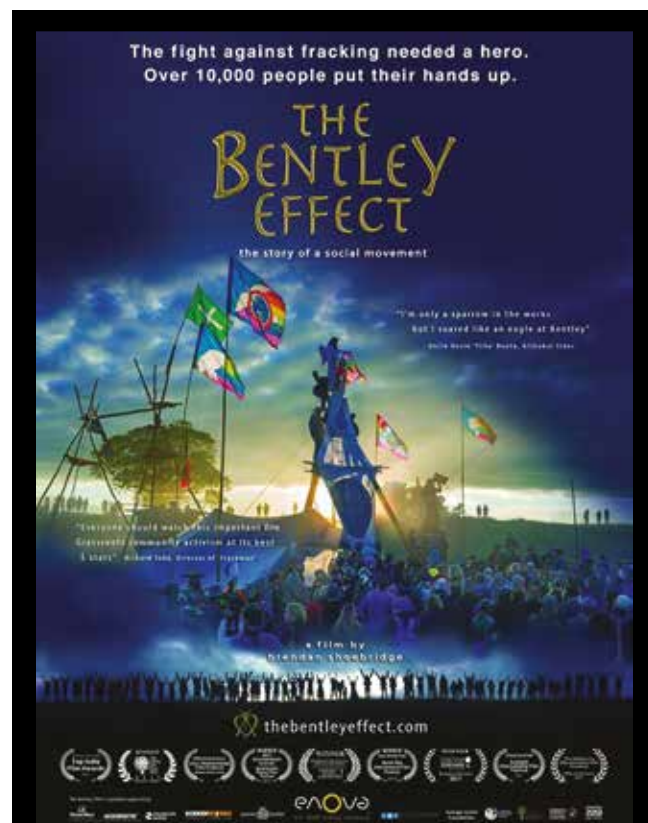

So we have the EA advising the public to reduce their use of household chemicals and single use plastics whilst the government supports the development of the shale gas industry, directly increasing risks from plastic pollution, chemical spills, water contamination, climate change and air pollution!

Impact of fracking on water supplies

Worryingly, fracking would bring a high risk of groundwater pollution as our area is heavily faulted geologically and riddled with old mine workings, both of which raises the risk of well casing failure and contaminants reaching the aquifer. Our area is in a groundwater protection zone - it directly feeds into the aquifer which supplies drinking water to approximately 8 million people. A gas field across this area could mean hundreds of wells being drilled directly through the water aquifer.

The millions of gallons of fresh water used per frack has toxic chemicals and silica sand added to it to hold open the fissures in the rock and aid gas extraction. The resultant toxic, radioactive waste that stays underground can percolate through cracks in the rock or along fault lines that could facilitate it reaching aquifers. The rest flows back to the surface with no infrastructure to handle treatment or disposal, creating as yet unresolved issues of storage of radioactive, chemical waste and the permanent loss of millions of gallons of fresh water. What impacts could this have on existing users and the environment? Our farmers already struggle with low water table issues during dry summers.

When clean water is so vitally important to the survival of all species, can we be so careless with it as to allow an industry that will permanently extract and pollute so much of it for the foreseeable future? Isn't this ecocide?

If the EA are asking the public to reduce the chemicals and plastics they put into the environment, surely it is time the government was prepared to do the same by abandoning their plan to frack England.

Going against advice

The government has published two reports in recent months which address the need for clean, sustainable development: Clean Growth Strategy; 25 Year Environmental Plan and now the EA's Water Quality report. Their report, Gas Security of Supply, showed if anything, a lack of need for shale gas, only as a diversified source. Yet it is still supporting shale gas, continuing our dependence on dirty fossil fuels and bucking the trend toward renewables.

Only last year, local government bodies, health institutions and universities were running a national clean air campaign, asking folk to take action to reduce the amount of air pollution they create, yet numerous scientific studies show shale gas processes create health-damaging air pollution and cause greenhouse gas emissions! If you think that this is simply wrong, that the government should not be supporting the development of shale gas extraction, going against advice from environmental and health agencies and allowing corporations to risk harm to our precious countryside for profit, please join our campaign.

TAKE ACTION AGAINST FRACKING

Everyone who disagrees with allowing the development of fracking in England, please take action. Tell our elected representatives we don't want fracking here or anywhere! Write to:

- Our MP, Ben Bradley
- Notts County Councillors (fracking-related planning decisions will be made at County level) and Local Councillors
- Theresa May, Prime Minister
- Greg Clark, Secretary of State for Business, Energy and Industrial Strategy

If you want to take more direct action:

- Protest at the gates of Misson and Tinker Lane, Blyth drill sites
- Join in local fund-raising events and demos
- Object to all fracking-related planning applications
- Research the effects of fracking and raise awareness of what you find by having a discussion with friends, family, neighbours or groups you may attend. Not everyone knows about the fracking threat facing us and our environment – let's change that!

Frack Free Warsop meets at 7 pm on the third Wednesday of each month in the back room of The Plough, all anti-frackers welcome! Follow us on Facebook!

Warsop Precept

You may recall that we consulted on your views about the future of services provided by The Parish Council. From the responses, it was clear that you wished us to maintain that provision.

As such, it was necessary to increase the precept. During the February meeting of the Parish Council, councillors voted to increase the precept by an annual charge of £5 per Band D property. This represents an annual increase of 17% - but in reality is only 10p per week. (Lower banded properties will pay less but higher bands will cost more).

The increase will ensure that the council are able to maintain the services we currently do. An amount of the funds will be ring fenced each year to ensure future maintenance costs for the Town Hall are covered.

Mansfield District Council will be publishing details of the council tax costs for residents shortly.

For further details of how The Parish Council of Warsop supports the area through use of the precept, please contact the Clerk to the council.

The Friends of Thynghowe

Thynghowe and the forgotten heritage of Sherwood

Every April since 2005, The Friends of Thynghowe have walked to Hanger Hill in the footsteps of the folk who took part in the perambulations of the boundary of the Manor of Warsop.

Everybody is welcome to join us on Saturday 21st April for this guided walk as we celebrate the ancient tradition of assembling on the hill and visit other historic sites in the forest. We will recall stories from the past of the forest and celebrate the Viking assemblies that took place on Thynghowe a thousand years ago. We will meet at Budby Pumping Station from 9:45, starting the walk at 10am. This walk is about 3 to 4 miles and will take about 4 hours. No need to book, just turn up. Wear robust footwear, bring a drink and some lunch.

An authentic menu for lunch could be bread, cheese and ale as the account of the 1816 Warsop perambulation includes:

"... upon this Hanger Hill according to ancient custom Bread and Cheese and Ale brought from Warsop were given away to a number of Persons from Warsop who had Assembled there and also to a number of Boys who ran Races for it stood upon their heads in the crosses which were dug as Memorials of the Boundary particularly Francis Wardley a boy about ten years of age who won the race ..."

Advance notice of another of our main events. Over the weekend of 12th and 13th May the brilliant re-enactors of Regia Anglorum will return to Sherwood Pines for the Viking Spring Thing. Experience life in Sherwood during the Viking Age in the living history camp and watch superb combat action in the arena.

You can find out about our activities from our website and Facebook page and you can email us on thynghowe@warsopweb.co.uk or contact us by phone on 846281.

The Vikings of Sherwood project is supported by the National Lottery through the Heritage Lottery Fund.

Warsop Wives Group

As for everyone with events planned the adverse weather conditions upset our programme for February and March.

However, we are now looking forward to getting back on track for April and May! Our event dates include:

April 10th	Pub Games
April 24th	A speaker on Coal Mining
May 8th	Our annual Band Concert at The Methodist Chapel in aid of Charity.
May 22nd	We are getting together to celebrate The Royal Wedding.

Warsop Men's Probus

After a short business meeting, President Hugh Ashton welcomed Mr Trevor Louis, who was a guest of member Mr Geoffrey Hounsom, to the latest meeting.

Brian Booth gave a talk about his trips to Portugal, illustrated by computer generated slides, and the Roman history in the area he was visiting which had only recently been discovered and appreciated. Brian is a keen metal detectorist and he, with his Portuguese friend, found many Roman artifacts.

After a short comfort break in the Stable Bar, 19 members had lunch in the Fitzherbert Room.

Hugh Ashton, President

Members of the Big Warsop Community Chest committee

Roll on RoLo

On the evening of 8th February, we celebrated the success of RoLo - Rotary working alongside the National Lottery Big Warsop Community Chest, at our weekly meeting at The Hostess Restaurant.

Since its launch in 2013, over £38,000 has been awarded to local groups, charities and community projects, including a £12,500 contribution from the Rotary Club of Warsop, Shirebrook and District.

Over 50 organisations in the Warsop area have been awarded grants, the majority of which have been either community groups or groups working with children and young people.

Joining us for the evening were members of the Big Warsop Community Chest committee and to help us celebrate we were entertained by the fabulous Voices of the Vale choir (pictured right) and then later we heard from some of the organisations that had received grants - including Hettys Lane Holiday Club, Infotech, Oaklands, Warsop in Bloom and St Theresa's Community Café - about how the money had helped them.

Cllr. Sharron Adey Warsop Update

A gentle reminder from me as I look across the snowy garden and read the paper.

Raise your heads high and take another look at this. Did you know that Meden School 6th Form came top in Nottinghamshire County School League. YES TOP.

Warsop feel proud.

The spotlight is on Warsop thanks to young people.

I am soon to be a governor of Meden School and I am also an enrichment leader as part of a team who bring our children out every week into the local community. The aim of the group is to make our town a better place to live and give the young people of Warsop a feeling of pride.

Also there is still chance to get involved in the Parish Council's ten year plan. If you are interested, get in touch with me at Warsop Town Hall.

New Customer Hub for Mansfield Civic Centre

Significant building works are taking place at Mansfield Civic Centre to transform the ground floor into a shared digital hub for self-service and reception for Mansfield District Council and Department for Work and Pensions (DWP) customers.

The new shared hub will provide improved facilities for customers who will be able to access a range of council and DWP services in one location.

In order to create the new hub, from Tuesday 6 March for ten weeks, the reception area will be split in two to allow for the refurbishment.

During this time, customers who need to visit the council's Housing desk and Revenues and Benefits counter will need to use the Chesterfield Road entrance to the Civic Centre. The normal reception service for enquiries and visitors will also be available from this entrance during the work, while a temporary reception will be in place in the Civic Quarter via the Rosemary Street/car park entrance. The temporary reception can be used for all general enquiries, Licensing, Planning, Environmental Health, lost dog releases, Nottinghamshire County Council forms and applications, document check and drop off and all business customers.

The Homeless Prevention team and Homefinder service will be based at the Citizens' Advice Bureau on Regent Street. All phone numbers will remain the same.

The Civic Quarter will remain unaffected for events and its café will be open on weekdays.

Public meetings will still go ahead and a temporary walkway will give direct access to the Council Chamber from the Rosemary Street/car park entrance.

The car park at the Civic Centre will be open as usual and signs will be in place to direct members of the public. Some visitors will need to walk from the car park on Rosemary Street to the Chesterfield Road entrance using the public footpath. Extra help will be available for people with mobility difficulties, please ask our reception staff for details.

Temporary public toilets will be provided outside the Civic Centre.

From Monday 12 March, all DWP services including the assessment centre and Job Centre Plus will open to the public at the Civic Centre. Any visitors coming to the DWP will have to use the Chesterfield Road entrance at the Civic Centre until the new reception opens in May.

Sarah Troman, Director of Communities at Mansfield District Council, said:

"We will provide additional support for customers who need to access face to face services but I would encourage customers to go online for information, payments and reporting issues. Our contact centre will not be affected."

"We would like to thank our customers for their patience during the refurbishment."

The improved facilities for customers will provide access to council services, housing and DWP enquiries all within the same shared space. There will also be new self-service points, where customers will be able to apply, update or process a range of DWP and council grant and benefit applications. There will be a Job Centre, fitness for work assessment centre, finance and back office functions.

The Importance of Wills

Local Member of Parliament Ben Bradley met with Mansfield based solicitors Fidler & Pepper to discuss the importance of getting a Will written by a professional, and encourage Mansfield constituents to consider getting a professional will written

Mr Bradley is backing a drive by Mansfield law firm Fidler & Pepper Solicitors to encourage more and more people to make sure they have a will in place.

The law firm wants people to speak to their own lawyers about making sure their last wishes are recorded properly. Currently, figures show that around 60 percent of adults do not have a will in place. During the meeting between the firm and the MP, whose office is just around the corner from Fidler & Pepper, Mr Bradley was made aware of the potential consequences of not having a will. He was also told of how Fidler & Pepper are often asked to help put right wills that have either been written incorrectly, or have been downloaded from the internet.

Speaking of the visit, Mr Bradley said:

"It was great to meet the team from Mansfield's Fidler & Pepper Solicitors and talk to them about the importance of wills."

"They told me some horror stories about circumstances where people thought they sorted out their will with unqualified providers and it's gone horribly wrong. It's worth knowing that right now this area is not regulated, so you should make sure you get your advice from a professional source you're happy with"

Richard Howard, who heads up the wills team at Fidler & Pepper said:

"It was good to hear that Mr Bradley understood that we want people to have their wills written by professionals, or at least double-checked by experts."

"We help people with wills, but there are a lot of other firms locally who do too so there is little reason why people cannot get a will written. As we have said many times before, having a will in place can save time, money and heartache at a time when people are often feeling sad at the passing of a loved one."

Richard added:

"There are also fundraising initiatives during the year where people can have a will professionally written but they donate the fee to charity instead. Schemes like WillAid and Notts Hospice's, 'Make Your Will Month' are two initiatives that Fidler & Pepper, and other firms, get involved with."

Ben Bradley's New YouTube Channel

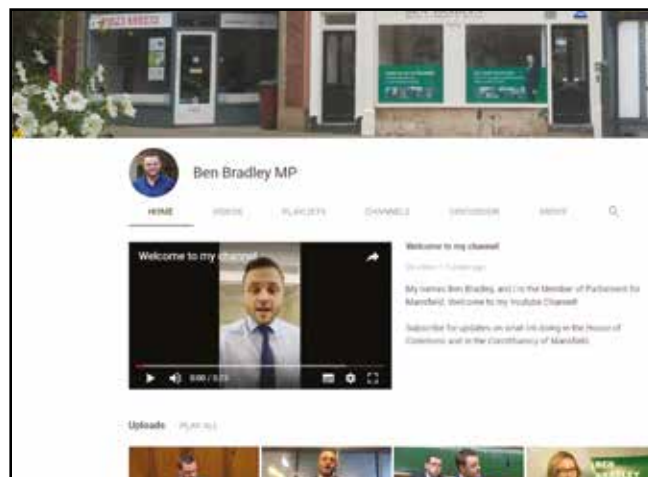

Mansfield MP launches YouTube Channel in bid to encourage young people to engage with politics

Local Member of Parliament Ben Bradley has launched a new YouTube Channel, as part of his ongoing effort to encourage youngsters in and around Mansfield to engage with local politics.

"I want to get young people re-engaged with politics," Mr Bradley said, "I think it's so important that youngsters take an interest in politics, not just nationally but locally as well, and I'm really keen to engage with them as much as I can."

"I think the best way to do that is to be as open and approachable as possible. I'm out and about in the constituency every week, I hold fortnightly surgeries as well as 3 days a week drop-in's at my office, and one a week in Warsop, and myself and my team are as contactable and open as possible."

"I think one way politicians should be engaging with youngsters is using platforms they actually use, such as social media. I post on Facebook every day, whether that be updates from the House of Commons, what I'm doing in Mansfield, or anything else relevant to the constituency. I also have a Twitter and Instagram where I regularly post updates."

The Mansfield MP was recently made Vice Chairman of the Conservative Party, being responsible for encouraging Youth Engagement with politics. Alongside his social media presence, Mr Bradley has also been visiting local schools and colleges, sports clubs and community youth groups, as well as previously meeting the Mansfield Youth Mayor. Over the last two months, Mr Bradley has also visited the two main local Universities, The University of Nottingham and Nottingham Trent University, to discuss how Mansfield students are supported and encouraged into higher education.

Have You Signed up for Garden Waste Collection?

Mansfield District Council's garden waste collection service is gearing up for the forthcoming season.

The service runs from April 2018 to March 2019 and costs £30 a year for 22 collections - which represents a cost of £1.36 per collection. It costs £15 for each extra bin, up to a maximum of four bins.

Cllr Andrew Tristram, Portfolio Holder for the Environment, said:

"This year-round doorstep service for garden waste represents excellent value for money."

"As well as saving residents the time and effort of bagging up their waste and making trips to the tip, it also helps to reduce the amount of waste sent to landfill."

"In addition, if household garden waste is composted on a large scale it reduces the volume of greenhouse gases produced, so it really does help the environment."

Collections take place fortnightly from April until November, with monthly collections running from December to February, returning to fortnightly collections in March to deal with the start of garden clearing activity in the spring.

The Garden Waste brown bin can be used for:

- grass cuttings
- hedge trimmings
- leaves
- small branches and twigs
- plants
- weeds
- cut flowers.

Invoices for the new season are going out to all existing customers and for those who have signed up to pay by Direct Debit, the first payment will be taken on 10 March. From 19 March, information packs and bin stickers for 2018/19 will be sent to customers who have paid for the service.

Mansfield residents who wish to use the garden waste collection service this year and have not yet signed up will be able to register online at www.mansfield.gov.uk/gardenwaste. The annual cost of the service remains the same at £30, regardless of when people sign up to the scheme, so residents are urged join now to get the most out of the service.

New customers can pay for the service at PayPoints outlets, at the Post Office, online at www.mansfield.gov.uk/payments or by using the council's automated 24-hour telephone payment line 01623 428632.

The first collection for the 2018/19 year will start from Monday 2 April 2018.

- There will be no variations to normal Mansfield District Council waste collections over the Easter period but the rounds may start a bit earlier so householders should ensure their bins are out for collection by 6am rather than 6.30am.

Community Garden to Ease Loneliness

A new Community Garden has been set up at Mansfield District Council's Bull Farm allotments in Shaftesbury Avenue to tackle the issue of social isolation among residents.

The scheme is being run in partnership with Feel Good Gardens, a community interest company based at Sherwood Pines, and the council's housing department, as part of a wider council strategy to improve the health, wellbeing and lifestyles of its residents, particularly older men who often suffer from loneliness and social isolation.

Weekly 'work parties' on Wednesdays from 10.30am to 2.30pm began this month guided by Feel Good Gardens and people are being encouraged to turn up and grab a spade. Complete gardening beginners are welcome.

Cllr Barry Answer, Portfolio Holder for Housing, said:

"What we are hoping is that this community garden will improve the lives of local people, both by providing exercise and the chance to meet new people, and also in healthier eating. What could be better for you than growing your own free organic fruit and vegetables?"

"Social isolation and loneliness can literally be killers and they are especially common among older men, leading to poor physical and mental health and a higher risk of disability, as well as poor recovery from illness, and even early death."

"Men often find it more difficult to talk about their problems and the aim of community gardens are to provide places where people can come together, share skills and develop a sense of purpose and achievement."

Clare Heyting, Feel Good Gardens' Horticultural Ranger, added:

"This is therapeutic horticulture in a friendly accessible and supportive space. It has long been known that gardening is a really healthy pastime - both physically and mentally. Just being outside in the fresh air with other people is good for you."

"We help bring people together to plant and care for the garden and we can even run occasional cookery demonstrations which help the gardeners learn how to use the produce they have grown."

"We hope it will appeal to people who want to develop a new hobby, become healthier, and meet like-minded people."

"The advantage of it being communal allotment means it is less daunting than having the responsibility of taking on an entire allotment. It is a fun and easy way to access nature and the green spaces on your doorstep."

The council intends to expand the scheme and open other community gardens in other parts of the district in the future. To find out more, see www.feelgoodgardens.org or call Clare on 07866 364400.

Council Backs Housing Plan for Old Brewery

Mansfield District Council is helping to bring forward plans to redevelop the old Mansfield Brewery site to provide much needed rented housing in the town.

The landmark site off Littleworth has been derelict for 15 years after the brewery went into liquidation in 2001.

The council is keen to facilitate development of the site as part of its wider strategy of regeneration and raising the image of Mansfield as a good place to live, work and visit, and has taken the decision to reduce the land charges associated with the former brewery and to remove further barriers to development.

Wise Living Homes Ltd, has come forward with plans to acquire a large part of the site and build 75 private rented apartments of one to four bedrooms.

The council has agreed a reduced Land Charge fee in return for specific conditions to be met, including the site progressing within six months and completing within 24 months of planning approval.

Cllr Roger Sutcliffe, Portfolio Holder for Finance, said:

"We don't own this site and have been waiting for a long time for a third party to come along and do something with it."

"It is really important that this key brownfield site is given a new lease of life and this housing plan is a serious regeneration scheme for this part of the town so we want to do everything we can to bring it forward."

Cllr Sutcliffe made the delegated decision on this matter on 26 February.

Council Takes Action Against Taxi Driver

A taxi driver whose licence was revoked by Mansfield District Council has had his appeal dismissed at Nottingham Magistrates' Court yesterday (Thursday 8 March 2018). Mr Appleton aged 55, had his licence revoked in July 2017 for being intimidating, aggressive and putting members of the public at risk by his driving manner.

Four separate incidents were considered by the magistrates' court. Two members of the public gave evidence that the driver had put their safety and that of their unborn baby at risk as a result of his driving. Another member of the public gave evidence about the taxi driver distressing her colleague by being intimidating and making a racist remark.

Written evidence was considered by the Magistrates detailing a further incident of driving and failing to provide his name when asked, responding with "Eric Cantona" and a fourth incident was considered where the taxi driver had intimidated a passenger by accusing her of theft of his wallet.

The taxi driver's appeal was dismissed by the magistrates who found that he was not fit and proper to hold a licence.

The magistrates found that the Licensing Authority's decision to revoke his taxi licence was correct. Mr Appleton was also ordered to pay a contribution towards the council's legal costs.

Jacqueline Collins, Director of Governance and Monitoring Officer at Mansfield District Council said:

"I would also like to thank those members of the public who took the time and trouble to report their concerns to the council and give evidence at court. Without their assistance Mr Appleton would still be operating as a taxi driver. The safety of the public is a paramount consideration for the licensing authority and we will not allow this to be compromised. Mansfield District Council requires the highest standards for all drivers and will not hesitate to take action against those failing to meet the required standards."

Additional Funding to Tackle Highway Issues

Mansfield Mayor Urges Nottinghamshire County Council to Tackle Local Traffic Issues.

Mansfield's Executive Mayor Kate Allsop along with Councillor Martin Wright Leader of the Independent Group at MDC and Councillor Stephen Garner, Leader of the Independent Group at Nottinghamshire County Council, went to see for themselves some of the issues caused by traffic congestion at the junction of the A60 Nottingham Road and Park Lane, which provides access to Mansfield Leisure Park. At certain times of the day the area becomes gridlocked, with traffic stopping across the junction, blocking movement in all directions.

Mayor Allsop, Cllr Wright and Cllr Garner have been liaising with Nottinghamshire County Council colleagues at the highest level to urge them to address the highways issues in Mansfield.

Mayor Allsop said: "We have listened to the concerns raised by our residents and are aware of their frustrations. I am told regularly how long it can take to turn into or out of Park Lane at peak times. If traffic remains a problem, people could avoid the area. We don't want people to by-pass our town, we want Mansfield to be a destination of choice, a great place to visit and shop and enjoy leisure time."

The County Council has confirmed additional funding to help resolve the bottle neck. Conversations with the County Council reveal that some initial work has been carried out and further work to review the phasing of traffic signals is still to be undertaken. The first intervention will be live by the end of March.

Mayor Allsop added: "We understand that further work is scheduled, but we are urging the County Council to do this as a matter of urgency. Having good traffic and transport links makes it easier to get around, and helps to make an area more attractive to visitors and investors. These are important considerations if Mansfield is to continue to thrive and attract businesses and visitors."

Mansfield shopkeeper Fined for Fan Noise Nuisance

A Mansfield shopkeeper has been ordered to pay more than £2,650 for creating a noise nuisance at his Ladybrook convenience store.

In a case heard at Derby Magistrates' Court on 28 February 2018 and prosecuted by Mansfield District Council, Dharma Susanthan, formerly of Somersall Street, was found guilty in his absence of two breaches of an abatement notice for noise nuisance from a fridge ventilation fan on the roof of his business.

Magistrates fined him £660 for each breach of the abatement notice and ordered him to pay £1,265.81 costs and a £66 victim surcharge. The court heard that neighbours to Dharma Susanthan's convenience store in Ladybrook Lane had complained to the council about noise from a fan which was ventilating a fridge that contained non-perishable food and could have been switched off. He was prosecuted after failing to take adequate action to stop the noise.

After the case, Cllr Bill Drewett, Portfolio Holder for Safer Communities at Mansfield District Council, said:

"This was a case that was completely avoidable if the shop proprietor had taken simple action to stop the noise created by this fan. I hope this case underlines the need for people to take abatement notices issued by the council seriously."

"The Environment and Public Protection teams will be monitoring the store to ensure the proprietor complies with the notice."

Footpath & Countryside Group

During April, the countryside really starts to come to life. Cowslips should be flowering early in the month and during the last few days the first bluebells and early purple orchids may be appearing.

A couple of my favourite flowers that can usually be spotted on The Carrs are the snake's head fritillary and water avens.

Snake's Head Fritillaries

Butterflies will be appearing in increasing numbers. Peacocks, small tortoiseshells and brimstones may be seen in the early part of April with orange tips, speckled woods and small whites fluttering around later on.

Although Warsop's network of public footpaths offers some of the best walking in the area, there are also many nearby sites that also offer fine walks. The car park at Pleasley Pit is the starting point for several interesting routes. One option is the walk along former railway line of the Teversal Trail to the visitors centre (maybe stopping there for a cup of tea) and returning along the Skegby Trail. There are views of the upper reaches of the River Meden from the Skegby Trail. On a recent Footpaths Group walk we walked from Pleasley to Hardwick Hall via Norwood and returned along the Rowthorne Trail, although this walk may be even more enjoyable in less muddy conditions! A third alternative is to wander around the Pleasley Pit country park and nature reserve where you may even have a view of Hardwick Hall from the restored pit tip without having to walk all the way there! The cafe at the colliery is open most mornings.

April is usually the quietest month of the year for our work programme. Our hedge and scrub management tasks will have been completed ahead of the birds choosing their nest sites and the grass along Warsop's paths will not yet be ready for its first cut. However, if we look closely there will be seedlings of Himalayan Balsam that will need removing from alongside Warsop's waterways.

The Warsop Footpaths & Countryside Group AGM will be held on the last Tuesday of April at 7pm. Please contact us if you would like to attend.

For our April walk, we will be joining The Friends of Thynghowe on Saturday 21st April for their annual guided walk to Thynghowe when the ancient tradition of assembling on the hill will be celebrated after visiting other historic sites in the Forest. Meet at Budby Pumping Station from 9:45 to start the walk at 10am. This walk is about 3 to 4 miles and will take about 4 hours. No need to book, just turn up. You may wish to bring a drink and some lunch. Check our Facebook page facebook.com/Warsop1816 for more details.

Easter at Mr Straw's House

27th March - 14th April 2018 | 10.30am - 4pm

£2 Plus Standard Admission

Take a wander around Mr Straw's House this Easter.

Florence Straw contributed a range of ornaments and trinkets to the large collection of everyday objects cared for at Mr's Straw's, and some of her woollen pompom birds have been causing quite a stir. They have invited some of their friends round and these fluffy little chicks are running amok in the house.

Can you help work out where these naughty animals are hiding as you explore the house on your tour?

Stay a little longer this Easter to enjoy the gardens as they spring back into life. Take a look into the greenhouse and see Walters' cacti collection. Take a peek into the Washhouse and the kitchen and explore our outdoor spaces. If the weather is warm enough, enjoy a cup of tea from the tea room with a book from the second-hand bookshop.

Please note that Mr Straw's House is closed on Sundays and Mondays and that admission is by timed ticket.

Please telephone to book your visit 01909 482380.

Our current 'addiction' is sharing and listening to our old vinyl records, and remembering some very good times, oh and inevitably some singing, but not a lot!

DUKERIES
Singers
Your Local Choir

Jan Towler

"What a difference a day makes!"
Yesterday slushy snow and seemingly no end to winter and today we have glorious sunshine and the temptation to leave off a couple of thermal layers.

However, we have only missed one practise night due to inclement weather. Our far flung members travel from Newark, Worksop, Mansfield Woodhouse, Warsop and Mansfield and all points in between in order to make music together. What a hardy and loyal set of singers.

We rehearse every Wednesday evening from 7-30pm. until 9-15pm. in the Concert Hall at The Dukeries Academy in Ollerton. This is best accessed via the Leisure Centre entrance and car park.

You can find out more about the Choir on our website.

www.thedukeriesingers.com

and on Facebook, Twitter and on YouTube

Our Diary Dates

Sunday 22 April 2018

We are singing to celebrate St. George's Day at St.Giles' Church in Old Ollerton. This is a great family fun day and we can indulge in performing all the patriotic songs we can find.

Saturday 12 May 2018

We are presenting a concert at Farndon Parish Church. Singing here is such a joy as we have so many friends in the community.

We still have three engagements to confirm with Weston Church, a joint concert with Newstead Abbey Singers and the R.A.F.A. Club Newark.

Please contact our Concert Secretary Phil on 01623 822070 if you would like to book the choir for your fund raising, charity or celebration event. He would be delighted to hear from you.

Have a lovely Spring as you Tip Toe through the Daffodils!
